DENUNCIATION OF PHELPS-KERENS DEAL.

St. Louis Republican Club Repudiates the Action of the Two Colonels.

ARRAIGNED AS LOBBYISTS.

National Committeeman Comes in for Censure-"Boodlers" the Subject of Last Night's Meeting.

'According to sentiments advanced at last night's meeting of the St. Louis Republican Club, there is as much harmony existing between the members of that organization and the Phelps-Kerens faction as there is between a red rag and an infuriated bull. Resolutions, teeming with denunciation and repudiation of the Phelps-Kerens plea for Republican harmony, were unanimously for Republican harmony, were unanimously adapted, and speech after speech, deciaring the unwarranted action of the two Colonels as "nothing but an effort to widen the breach in the Republican party" were received with enthusiasm.

The hail and pariors of the club were thronged with Republicans of the practical kind, and their action in denouncing the policy decided upon a few days ago in the Missouri Pacific Railroad offices is conceded to mean that such harmony as prayed.

Missouri Pacific Railroad offices is con-ceded to mean that such harmony as prayed for by Phelps and Kerens is not desirable among the ranks of the local Republican

The chief interest of last night's meeting centered about the adoption of the declaration prepared at the request of the Board of Directors, by a committee, composed of Geo. D. Raynoids, Charles Parsons, James L. Minnis, L. J. W. Wall and O. F. Fischer, M. D., and which in part was as follows:

The time having arrived for the nomination and slection of decaptes to our State and Judicial conventions, the St. Louis Republican Club considers it proper to address Republican Club considers it proper to address Republican club, we make the following declarations and appeals: We protest that the pies of harmony small not be used to foster the perpetuation and deminating of compromised and discredited politicians; thus those official representatives wiftons reputational are tainted with the stain of City Hall boadle shall not, under the pleas of harmony, be permitted to continue in their positions and to dictate the selection of delegates to approaching conventions; that any man, however promittent he may have been in our party's counsels, who places his reliance for audeezs upon the assistance of the lobby, and upon bargain and barier with it, must be, and is uncontineally condemned as until to represent the party in any capacity.

Reynolds Does Some Ronsting.

In presenting the declarations for adoption, Colonel George D. Reynolds, chairman of the committee, in a brief address, stated that the Republican party of St. Louis is to-day contropted with a situation that does not often happen in other cities.

"We have read of the reacality of our fellow-citizens, who previously stood high in the community," said he, referring to the Grand Jury investigation, "and we were disgusted at the awful exposition made in this city. No one will therefore misunderstand the allusions to boodlers made in the declarations which I am about to present to your consideration.

"We learn with great astonishment that in the last few days certain men of our party and ethers who had nothing to do with the party met in one of the offices of a railroad corporation and organized to forestall our honest efforts at the primaries and attempted to dictate who should be delegates in our coming convention. They undertook to dictate who our committeemen should be and set up a dishorest plea for party harmony. In view of these two conditions, it was decided to draw up a statement and declaration that would show the frue position of this club."

Colonel Reynolds then proceeded to read the declaration, and was frequently intersupted by vigorous appliauss.

Expeeches were made by B. R. Bonner, shairman of the Twenty-eighth Ward Republican League Club, James Welah, E. C. Brockmeyer, Charles Nagel, J. Hugo Grimm and L. Minnis.

The latter's address was the most vigorism of the evening. He said in part:

"Last Friday there was a meeting of Republican lobbyists at which at least one committeeman who is a candidate for Senator was in conference with Colonel "Bill" Pheips, the well-known lobbyist, and a few others. There was some kind of a proposition made to settle a controversy that cld not exist, and another proposition to bring about harmony in a party where the National Committeeman is the only disturber. Grounds Revert to City and Commercial Museum Will Be Established-Missouri to Rave Exhibit.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Charleston, S. C., May 31.—The exposition closed its gates to-night with a large attendance, preworks and an extended programme of amusements. When the closing hour arrived a detachment from the Marine Corps sounded taps, and the brilliant illumination of the buildings faded slewly out forever. During the day the Missouri Commisdon, in response to an urgent request, decided to establish a small Missouri exhibit in the permanent Commercial Museum, which the city of Charleston will immedately open in the Certon Palace. The city has purchased nearly all the grounds now occupied by the exposition company, and will utilize it as a park. It will tear down the pulaces of commerce and agriculture and strengthen the structure of the Cotton Palace. It has also purchased the Maryland building, which will be removed to a point opposite the Cotton Palace and be used as a clubhouse.

All the States represented at the exposi-tion have contributed largely of their exhibits to the establishment of the permanent museum, Oregon and New Mexico giving their entire exhibits. The Missouri Commissioners were somewhat handicapped by the fact that the law provides for the return of all the State's property and non-perishable exhibits to Missauri for transfer to the Missouri Commission, to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, but the Commis sioners found among their personal con-tributions, not the property of the State, a sufficient amount and variety of speci-mens to make the beginning of a perma-nent Missouri exhibit.

The State has been conceded the space in the Cotton Palace, which for six months has been occupied by the Missouri horticultural exhibit, and before their departure next week the Commissioners will install the specimens of Missouri resou and industry that are to remain here.

The regular seminanual "at home" of the Shaw Missouri Botanleal Garden will be held to-day, according to the will of the late Henry Shaw, and preparations have been made for the entertainment of 40,000 people. The garden is thrown open to the public twice a year, on the first Sunday in June and September, and as many people as can be comfortably are admitted without charge.

The garden has been greatly refreshed by the recent rains and will present a beautiful spectacle to-day. Fond littles are blooming, roses are at their best and popples are brightest. The garden employes will serve the crowd as guides to-day.

William S. Trelease, director of the garden, said last night: "An unusually important festime which will interest the visitors will be their opportunity to see the proparations for the coming of the bloom on the Amezon awater life. The public will doubtless also be interested in the tropical American plants from which the panama hats are made. The Venus Fly Trap will attract which attention, and there are a number of worthy sights in the tropical house where carrivorous plants are grown. The Panama plant at the Shaw Garden prows 5 feet high, which means that it flourishes there to the extent that it does in its native country. This plant is green, but is made to change its color by a process.

CLEVELAND WILL SPEAK AT TILDEN CLUB'S OPENING.

een Hundred Prominent Demo-crats Are invited to Be Pres-ent June 19.

New York, May 31.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland has accepted an invitation to speak at the opening of the new Tilden Club on June 19. About 1.509 men prominent in the Democratic party have been invited. Among those expected are David B. Hill, William J. Bryan, Senator Bacon of Georgia, Mayor Patrick A. Collans of Beaton, John D. Milburn of Buffalo, Richard Olney, Doctor Felix Adler, Bourke Cochran, William C. Whitney, ex-Mayors Grace, Grant, Giley, Van Wyck, Hewitt, Edson and Hooley, and Lewis Nixon.

This is the first time that Mr. Cleveland has consented to address a political andlence since his retirement from office. This coupled with the fact that so many distinguished Democrats whose views on silver and other questions have been radically opposed to each other, are to be present, is pointed out as an evidence that the occasion of the opening of the club means a direct effort to harmonics various discordant elements of the party.

operations, and was politely told by Mr. Christ that the coillery would continue to run.

Mr. Christ said:

"We have no railroad communication, the Schoykill River dividing us from the Reading Railway. All the coal we can mine is for private consumption. For three years we have been running in debt. We could strike no coal, and everything seemed to be working against us. Now we have coal and can supply a portion of the town trade. We have no facilities to ship a pound of coal and we should not be molested."

Over three years ago Christ & Boyle began prospecting for coal, Boyle, being a practical miner, did the excavating, while Christ, who is a carpenter, did the outside work, and at the same time worked on the construction of a miniature breaker. The men worked day and alght, and the best they could do was to go in debt. Finally their water pipes give out mu their contage failed them. Blyle then said: "Let a toss a coin. Heads we continue, fails we quit." Heads it came. They Cogrowed more money, and continued to ping away. Just a short time says they struck coal in paying quantities. To day, with their backs addied with obligations, they are in a position to make proney without aiding other operators, and they consider it an injustice to be asked to suspend.
